CARETTA CARETTA

Do you know the adorable sea turtles while exploring Kas's bays by boat? These turtles, which we'll see frequently with Kas's bays by boat, are thought to have lived on this planet for approximately 100 million years. Loggerheads come on land only to lay eggs and are considered to be endangered. Today, their numbers continue to fall due to manmade development and light pollution. They have been under protection since they started to be endangered.

As volunteers of Cantek, we enjoyed in participating in the event of EKAD for Loggerheads turtles on 20-21 August, in Antalya Belek. In the first hours of the morning, we helped the babies, that will be the giant Loggerheads of tomorrow, to reach the sea.
